Dear Robin,

CAE is dedicated to offer its airline customers the best training equipment and service available in the world.

For cabin fire training, CAE has acquired the V9000 Commander™ next-generation fire trainers from Flame Aviation for its training centers in Kuala Lumpur and London-Gatwick.

CAE has selected the V9000 Commander™ because of 1) the advanced training features, 2) the comprehensive safety concept and 3) the unmatched building quality.

The installation was carried out seamlessly and the ongoing customer support is superb.

Best Regards,

Gary Green
